THEY POUNDED CLARKSON

Terrific Hitting by the Hoosiers Winsthe Third Successive Game from Boston.

A Fine Exhibition of Ball Playing in Which the Home Team Greatly Excelled-The Hoosiers Finally Pass the Pittsburgs.

By superior work both at the bat and in the field the Indianapolis ball team again defeated the Boston club at the League Park yesterday afternoon, the victory being the third successive one of the present series. As in the previous contests, the Hoosiers outplayed the League leaders at every point and won the game on its merits. It was not through any poor work of the visitors that the home team came out ahead, but rather by reason of its own great playing. The Hub combination gave a fine exhibition and made a desperate effort to win, but it was of no use. When Manager Hart declined to put Sowders in against Rusie, he did so because he thought that, with Clarkson in the box, his team stood a good chance to secure the game, but the result shows that the hope was not realized. In fact, it is no sure thing that Sowders would not have done better than star pitcher of the Boston team, inasmuch as the latter was hit usually hard and opportunely. The Hoosiers went into the game confident of success, and the work accomplished was of the highest order. The errors made were not very costly and were excusable. Daily's was an overthrow to second, and Bassett's and Glasscock's fumbles. The Hoosier outfield had but little to do. Sullivan having no chances, Seery only two, and McGeachy the same number. The latter, however, made a remarkably fine play in throwing Brown out at the plate on Kelly's hit to right. Glasscock, Denny and Bassett all played their positions admirably, while also being a feature of the contest. Getzein pitched in splendid form, and was especially effective at critical stages. The visitors had but two difficult chances, Richardson making the best play for his side, it being a stop of a hard hit grounder over second base. Nash had an off day, making two wild throws to first. Carkson worked hard to win the game, but somehow could not keep the ball away from the big batters of the home team. While the Hoosiers made only two more hits than Boston they were secured at the hits than Boston, they were secured at the right time, and included three home runs and four doubles. Denny led the hitting with the remarkable record of a single, a two-bagger and two home runs, and that the double was not a four-baser was the hardest kind of luck. The ball went into hardest kind of luck. The ball went into deep center, striking the fence within twelve inches of the top. Glasscock was close after the famous third baseman, making a double and a home run. McGeachy and Getzein each made a single and a double. Hines played in hard luck, hitting the ball every chance he had, but always right at some fielder. While Getzein was batted rather freely, he kept the hits well scattered, barring the fifth inning, when three singles and two errors allowed four . men to score.

After two were out in the first, Sullivan made a hit, but was left. Hines going out, on a grounder to Brouthers. The second and third innings yielded blanks for both and third innings yielded blanks for both sides. In the fourth, after Hines had gone out on a fly to Johnston, Denny knocked the ball over the fence, scoring his first home run; Daily and McGeachy were retired at first on assists by Richardson and Nash. The Bostons found the ball in their half of the fifth inning, when singles by Clarkson, Brown, Brouthers and Richardson, coupled with a wild throw by Daily and a sacrifice by Kelly, allowed four men to cross the plate. In the sixth the Hoosiers again struck a batting streak, and scored four runs, securing a lead which was held throughout the game. Hines got his base on balls, and went in ahead of Denny when the latter made his second hit over the fence. Daily followed with a single, and reached third on McGeachy's fine two-bagger, Bassett sending both runsingle, and reached third on McGeachy's fine two-bagger, Bassett sending both runners home with a hit to right. Clarkson then settled down, and the side was retired. After Bennett had gone out on a fly to Seery, Clarkson put the ball over the left-field fence for a home run. Brown struck out, and Johnston gave Denny an easy chance. The seventh was blank for both teams, though Hoosiers had the bases full only one out, Sullivan and and only one out, Sullivan and Hines being caught at the plate. In the eighth, however, the home team clinched the game. McGeachy started the ball with a single and went to second on Bassett's sacrifice. Getzein singled, and the Hoosier right fielder scored. Seery's grounder forced Getzein out at second. Then Glasscock came to the bat; Clarkson had two strikes on him, and remarked to the noted short-stop that he would retire him on the next ball pitched. He was mistaken, however, for Glasscock knocked the ball high over Kelly's head, and, striking the wire over Kelly's head, and, striking the wire netting along right-field fence, lodged, and the batter made the circuit, sending Seery in ahead of him. Mr. Clarkson looked disgusted. Denny led off in the ninth with a double, went to third on an out and came home on McGeachy's out at first, Brouthers muffing Clarkson's assist. Bassett flew out to Johnston and Clarkson threw Getzein out at first. The visitors made their last fun in the ninth. Brown singled, but was forced out by Johnston. Kelly made a two-bagger, and the Boston center fielder scored. Brouthers was re-tired by Getzein and Hines, and McGeachy got Richardson's fly, leaving Kelly sitting on third base. The score:

To-Day's Game.

The last game of the present series with Boston will be played this afternoon. Boyle and Buckley will be the battery for the local team, while Madden and Ganzell will do similar service for the visitors. Manager Bancroft has concluded that four games from Boston would be about the right thing, and the Hoosiers will make an effort to get the final one this afternoon. Madden is a left-handed pitcher and has been doing good work.

Other League Games.

PHILADELPHIA, 7; CLEVELAND, 3. CLEVELAND, June 26.—Buffinton pitched a splendid game to-day, and up to the eighth inning Cleveland did not get a hit. In the eighth and ninth, by bunching their hits, they secured three earned runs. The attendance was under 500.

NEW YORK, 12; CHICAGO, 7. CHICAGO, June 26.-With the exception of the first inning this afternoon, New York played a faultless game. Welch was in the box for the Giants, and pitched a good game, keeping what hits were made well scattered. For Chicago, Krock was pounded unmercifully, New York making sixteen hits off his delivery for a total of thirty-one bases. Tener came in to pitch in the eighth, but the Giants pasted him for four hits in that inning, showing conclussively that they had their batting clothes on to-day. Chicago played hard to win, and in the sixth passed New York by one, but in the seventh New York batted out four runs, and in the eighth, three more, a lead the Whitestockings could not overcome. Whitney's work at third was very brilliant, he accepting every chance offered, all of which were very difficult. Gore, Connor and O'Rourke did great work

BROOKLYN, 10; COLUMBUS, 8. NEW YORK, June 26 .- The Brooklyns and Columbus played the last game of the series to-day. The former won easily. The Brooklyns refused to pay over to Manager Buchenburger Columbus's share of the gate receipts. President Byrne telegraphed Association headquarters that he would insist on the Columbus being fined $1,500 for refusing to play on Monday. The gate receipts in the different cities will be withheld from Columbus until the amount is made up. Manager Buchenburger says he can do nothing until he returns home. The action of Brooklyn to-day leaves Buchenberger short of funds with which to meet obligations. Score:

CINCINNATI, 6; ST. LOUIS, 1. St. Louis, June 26 .- Duryea's wonderful pitching won the game for Cincinnati today, the Browns being unable to do anything with his delivery. He was splendidly supported throughout. Stivetts, the Brown's new pitcher, made his debut with the team, and he made a good impression. His support was ragged, however, errors at critical stages of the game by Robinson and Boyle being responsible for three of the runs. The Cincinnatis won the game squarely on its merits, and put up the best game here they ever have. Score:

many years." The Hoosiers have passed Pittsburg in the race, going into sixth place yesterday. The margin is small, however. Radbourne left for his home in Bloomington, Ill., night before last, but will join the Bostons in Chicago this week. Denny distinguished himself and won great applause from the crowd. His record with the stick was really remarkable. McGeachy's assist from right field, throwing Brown out at the plate, was a brilliant play, and one not often accomplished. Edward Stevens, of the Boston Herald, who is with the Boston team, says the In-dianapolis infield is the best in the League. The Indianapolis team seems to have no weak batters just now. The club unquestionably leads the League with the stick. "Give it to us again to-morrow, boys," remarked Michael Angelo Kelly, at the close of the game. "We go from here to Chicago, and we will make it up there."

"If you will only beat the New Yorks two or three games," said Mike Kelly yesterday, "we will forgive you for the way you have treated us." The Hoosiers will try and accommodate Mr. Kelly.

Hines failed to get a hit yesterday, but he played his base in fine style. He got his base on balls twice, and hit the ball hard when he had a chance, but it always went directly at some fielder.

President Brush spent half an hour after the close of yesterday's game trying to select a spot on the grounds on which to plant the diag staff for the pennant. If the home club wins to-day he will have the hole dug for it this evening.

At Newark, O., John Morrill, the Washington captain, met the Bostons on their way to Indianapolis. Smarting under his four defeats, Morrill said to Murnane and Hart, "The Hoosiers are hitting the ball awful hard, and the only advice I can give you is to try them on slow pitching." Acting upon this advice, Clarkson tried a slow delivery in Monday's game but was hit delivery in Monday's game, but was hit very hard. Radbourne also tried it, with similar result, while on yesterday Clarkson used every curve and shoot known to the pitcher's art, but the heavy hitters hit anything and everything that was offered. The boys have got a hitting streak, sure enough.

TURF EVENTS. Fast Time at Washington Park-El Rio

Rey's Great Performance. CHICAGO, June 26 .- Over 6,000 people attended the races at Washington Park. No stakes were on the card, the events being purses and over-night handicaps. The track was in fine condition, and the time very fast in each instance. The feature of the day was the great performance of El Rio Rey in giving weight to all of his op-ponents and winning easily after stumbling at the start and getting off last. First Race—Purse of $600, three-year-olds and upward; maiden allowances; seven and one-half furlongs. It was a very fast race, with Joe Courtney an easy winner. Fustic led for a quarter, when Joe Courtney went past him, and was not afterwards headed. He won by a length and a half, with Marchma second and Early Dawn third. Time 1:35

Tenbroeck's Record Beaten.

NEW YORK, June 26 .- The feature on good track at Sheepshead Bay, to-day, was the running a mile by Badge in 1:40.

First Race-One mile. The finish was a terrific one, but Belle B. could not get up in front, and Badge, who came along the home stretch with a terrific rush of speed, won by half a length in 1:40, but a quarter of a second behind Tenbroek's famous record, but really the fastest time ever made, for it was made in a race with other horses, and Badge carried 115 pounds to Tenbroeck's 110 pounds. Stuyvesant equaled this time in a race, but only carried 11112 pounds. Belle B. was second, and Ban Clothe third.

Second Race-Three-fourths of a mile. Drizzle won in in 1:1814; Mucilage second, Canteen third.

Third Race—One mile. Tanner won in 1:43; Gypsy Queen second, Cortes third.
Fourth Race—One and one-fourth mile. Dead heat between Wynwood and Hyperon for first, in 2:12; Satisfaction next. Wynwood won the run-off in 2:13. Fifth Race-One and three-eighths mile. The Favordale colt won in 2:23; Le Logos second, Barrister third.

This delightful summer resort of increasing fame and popularity, in northern Michigan, is beginning to be visited by large numbers of Indiana people. Splendid climate and scenery, elegant hotels and charming cottage life. The celebrated assembly programmes and summer schools furnish advantages which are said to be unequaled at the summer resorts of the East. Bay View has become immensely popular the past few years, and over seventy-five new cottages are now being erected there. Its cool and invigorating climate and bracing breezes from off Lake Michigan are praised by all tourists and health-seekers. This season's Assembly, opening July 24, and the summer school, beginning July 16, promise to be great attractions, as the finest talent in the land has been secured. The climate, recreative and Assembly advantages will no doubt cause Bay View to be visited by more Indiana people this season than ever before. The place is reached via rail over the Grand Rapids & Indiana railway, making good connections with other lines. Low-priced, long-time excursion tickets are sold at nearly all stations after June 1, but always to Petoskey, adjacent to Bay View. All trains stop at Bay View. A list of presents included many very useful and ornamental articles with which their friends remembered them liberally. Miss Godown entertained a few friends at cards last night, in honor of Miss Laura de

Isay, of Kansae City, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Morris. Among the guests were Miss Ida Haugh, Miss Nellie Frankem, Miss Rilia Anderson, Messrs. Reed, Overstreet, McClelland, Barnes, Hume and others. The gathering was entirely informal, and Miss Godown was a charming hostess. The last reception given yesterday after-noon and evening by Dr. and Mrs. Fred Woodburn was largely attended, and many were the expressions of admiration of their new and lovely home. The wedding gifts were seen, and a long list of friends presented their heartiest congratulations. It was a happy thought extending the hours for receiving into the evening, as many gentlemen were glad of the opportunity to pay their respects on one of the reception Mrs. T, A. Hendricks received, recently, a letter from Mr. R. S. Davis stating that a new and elegant steamboat had been fitted up to run on the lower Mississippi, and named after the late Vice-president. The writer said: "Only one thing is needed. That is a good picture of our lamented friend." Mrs. Hendricks immediately answered the request by purchasing from Mrs. Charles Ingraham the duplicate painting of the one she owns and considers the best of her husband, and which, being handsomely framed, was shipped with her compliments to the Interstate Transportation Company, at New Orleans,

A very pleasant afternoon entertainment was given yesterday by Mrs. J. E. Fox and daughters, Mary and Harriet, in honor of their guest, Miss Mary Day Barnes, of La Porte, Ind. The friends were asked to come with thimbles and fancy work, which va-riety was boundless. The rooms were beautifully adorned with daisies, ferns and vines, and the favors were natural flowers. Among the guests were Miss Sadie Parker, Miss Marchia Wood, Misses Florence and Minnie Coffin, Miss Genevieve Elliott, Edith Fountain, Anna Shulor, Miss Wellburn, Miss Vance, Miss Lulu Green, Miss Ennis, Miss Blackledge, Miss Annie Locke, Miss Grace Whittridge, Miss Jessie Hughes, Misses Kate and Lorel-etta Davidson with their guests, the Misses McPherson, of Louisville, Miss Nettie Wright, Miss Annie Weigand and Miss Bessie Tompkins. It was a delightful gathering and the company a most congen-

There was a brilliant gathering and a novel entertainment last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. DeVay, on North Delaware street. The friends were invited to a "lemon party" and every lady expected to bring one lemon. Upon the arrival of the guests, as soon as the greetings with the hostess were exchanged, they were ushered into the extension room where the into the extension room where the lemons brought by each individual were registered. The committee conducting the correct registering of names were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kregelo and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Hawkins. The ladies assisting Mrs. DeVay were Mrs. Charles F. Sayles and Mrs. Major Taylor. The hostess and those assisting were costumed entirely in yellow or lemon color, combined in some way. Favors, for both gentlemen and ladies, were yellow pansies and yellow roses. All the chandeliers were also shaded with the same color. Refreshments, too, were lemon ice. lemon ice-cream, lemon cake and lemonade. The finale of the evening was the cutting of the lemons, and the one having the largest number of seeds carried off the highest prize; second highest number, second prize, all the seeds being collected and counted. the guessing as to the number combined was given first to the ladies, and the one guessing nearest the correct number received the high reward. The gentleman guessing farthest from correct was the booby and received his reward. All the prizes were very handsome royal china. The novelty of the affair and the perfection in all the plans being carried out without a single mistake created the greatest Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Fishback, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. F. Catarrhal Dangers. To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

Sanford's Radical Cure meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving pages.
